

Tips to prepare a Statement of Purpose (SoP)

- State your primary interest of study within above-described domains. Be as specific and clear as possible in describing your interests.
- State your objective in pursuing a PhD (in general) and your application to EI Lab.
- Detail out your background (educational, industrial, professional experience) and explain how your background will help in achieving objectives in proposed research areas. Please include your technical, design and social science skill sets or any relevant skill set that you think will help in your research work.
- Describe any other information you wish to inform us, we would be happy to know.
- Attach your current resume, including a summary of research experience and a list of publications. If you have a portfolio, do not hesitate to attach it. Attach copies of any publications that you may have.
